

Contents

Acknowledgements	9
Family, kinship and state in contemporary Europe: a brief overview of the three-volume series Patrick Heady	11
1 Introduction: towards a political economy of kinship and welfare Patrick Heady and Martin Kobli	15
2 Family, kindred and marriage Patrick Heady, Siegfried Gruber and Zhonghui Ou	31
3 Remembering and forgetting kin Michael Schnegg	71
4 Domestic help Siegfried Gruber and Patrick Heady	83
5 Structural help Siegfried Gruber and Patrick Heady	127
6 Reciprocity and altruism in practical assistance Patrick Heady and Zhonghui Ou	159
7 Close kin influences on fertility behaviour Laura Bernardi and Robert G. White	177
8 Birth rates, values and social patterns Patrick Heady, Siegfried Gruber and Zhonghui Ou	203

9	Linkages among adult family generations: evidence from comparative survey research Martin Kohli, Marco Albertini and Harald Kinemund	225
10	The modern reality of kinship: sources and significance of new kinship forms in contemporary Europe Martine Segalen	249
11	Macro-regional differences in European kinship culture Pier Paolo Viazzo	271
12	Family in Europe: urban and rural contexts compared Michał Buchowski	295
13	Gender, kinship and the market for social care Sophie Chevalier	315
14	Kinship, neighbourhood and community in perspective Georges Augustins	331
15	Terminology and practice: European kinship in a world-wide perspective Günther Schlee and Patrick Heady	347
16	Evolutionary approaches to human behaviour in anthropology: a general overview and application to the KASS project Heidi Colleran and Ruth Mace	375
17	Conclusion: implications for policy Martin Kohli and Patrick Heady	395
	Appendices: methods used to collect and analyse network data.....	411
A1	Appendix 1: a brief explanation of the Kinship Network Questionnaire Gordon Milligan	413
A2	Appendix 2: data processing for analysis Patrick Heady, Siegfried Gruber and Zhonghui Ou	421

A3	Appendix 3: sampling, fieldwork and data quality Patrick Heady	423
A4	Appendix 4: other statistical sources used in volumes II and III Siegfried Gruber	433
	Authors	439
	Index.....	445