Table of Contents

1.0 Editor’s Foreword: Cruising through Hercules’ Pillars .......................... v
Alexis Papathanassis, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences

Table of Contents .............................................. ix

PART A: New trends & innovations ............................................ 1

2.0 Onboard Revenue: The secret of the cruise industry’s success? .......... 3
Michael P. Vogel, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences

3.0 Analysis of the Asian cruise industry and its future implementation ..... 17
Heung Michael Kwag & Eungyu Lee, Boston University

4.0 Cruising by old timers: A chance for local and regional development in Europe .......... 31
Tihomir Luković & Ulrike Munninger, University of Dubrovnik

5.0 FAT cruise tourism: The shifting tide of experiences .......................... 43
Patsy Morgan, Southampton Solent University

6.0 The future of medical care on cruise ships .............................................. 57
Werner Kalbfleisch, Cruiseship-Medical-Service

PART B: Human resource management & training ..................................... 63

7.0 Leadership: Short-term, intercultural and performance-oriented ............. 65
Wolfgang Lukas, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences

8.0 The future of Filipino workforce in the cruise sector .......................... 79
Petra Milde, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences

9.0 Developments in UK maritime hospitality management .......................... 95
Philip Gibson, University of Plymouth

10.0 Game-based learning for cruise management: Taking it to the web .......... 113
Michael P. Vogel & Ulrike Erb, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences

PART C: Information technology & process standardisation ......................... 131

11.0 Online booking in the cruise sector: Determinants of online trust & implications .... 133
Alexis Papathanassis, Bremerhaven University of Applied Sciences
Michael Breitner, Leibniz University Hannover
12.0  Price variation across channels: A case of ex-Southampton port cruises ......................... 155
Wai Mun Um, University of Plymouth

13.0  Online content mining & its potential for cruise management ........................................... 171
Karsten Sohns & Michael Breitner, Leibniz University Hannover

14.0  Establishing the need for a standardised rating system for cruise ships ............................. 187
Janette McCutcheon, University of Gloucestershire